

Old Hickory

The most complete line of out door furniture today, is simply a revival of the furniture used in the days of Andrew Jackson. The frame work of this unique furniture is made of young hickory saplings, cut in the fall so the bark will adhere. The seats and backs are woven from the strong inner bark which is as strong as rawhide and has the elasticity necessary to make the furniture comfortable. It makes the ideal furniture for the porch, the summer camp, country club, golf club, lawn and roof garden.

speaker, "are the tyrannies of the minorities."

Col. Roosevelt said in part:

The great fundamental issue now before the Republican party and before our propie can be stated briefly. It is, 'are the American people fit to govern themselves, to rule themselves, to control themselves, to rule themselves to control themselves? I believe they are. My opponents do not, I believe in the right of the people to rule. I believe that the majority of the plain people of the United States will, day in and day out, make fewer mistakes in governine themselves than any smaller class or body of men, no matter what their training, will make in trying to sovern them. I believe again, that the American people are, as a whole, capable of self control and of learning by their mistakes. Our opponents pay hy loyalty to this discrimine but they show their real beliefs by the way in which they champion every device to make the nominal rule of the people a sham.

"I have scant patience with this talk of the people a sham.

"I have scant patience with this talk of the tyranny of the majority. Whenever there is tyranny of the majority, I shall protest against it with all my I shall protest against it with all my heart and soul. But we are today suffering from the tyranny of minorities. It is a small minority that is grabbing our coal deposits, our water powers, and our harbor fronts. A small minority is battering on the sale of adulterated foods and drugs. It is a small minority that lies behind monopolles and trusts. It is a small minority that stands behind the present into of master and servant, the sweatlaw of master and servant, the sweat-shops, and the whole calendar of so-cial and industrial injustice. It is a small minority that is today using our convention system to defeat the will of a majority of the people in the choice of delegates to the Chicago convention. The only tyrannies from which men, women, and children are suffer-

Scores Taft, Who, He Says

Fears Tyranny of The Majority.

New York, N. Y., March 21.—In an address at Carnegie hall last night unpeople will come more quickly to anspeople will come more quickly to ans-wer and obey, not the commands of the special interests, but those of the whole people. To reach toward that end the Progressives of the Republican party in certain states have formulated cer-tain proposals for change in the form of the state government—certain new "checks and balances" which may check and balance the special interests and their allies. That is their purity of an electorate and prepares the way for the possible exercise of the grossest tyrany. Elsewhere he speaks of the Teverish uncertainty and unstable determination of laws by 'temporary and changing majorities,' and again he says that the system I propose 'would result in suspension or application of constitutional guarantees according to popular whim, which would destroy 'all possible consistency' in constitutional interpretation. I should much like to know the exact distinction that is to be made between what Mr. Taft calls 'the fittul impulse of a temporary majority' when applied to a question such as that I raise and any other question. Remember that under my proposal to review a rule of decision by popular vote, amending or construing, to that extent, the constitution, would certainly take at least two years from the time of the election of the legislature which passed the act. Now, only four months elapse between the nomination and the election of a man as president to fill for four years the most important of election of a man as president to fill for four years the most important of-fice in the land. In one of Mr. Taft's speeches he speaks of "the voice of the people as coming next to the voice of God.'

of God.

"Apparently, then, the decision of the people about the presidency, after four months, deliberation. Is to be treated as next to the voice of God, but if after two years of sober thought, they decide that women and children shall be protected in industry, or men protected from excessive hours of labor under unhysteric conditions, or wage workers compensated when they lose life or limb in the service of others, then their decision forthwith becomes a 'whim' and Teverish' and 'unstable' and an exercise of 'the grossest tyranny' and the 'laying of the ax to the foot of the tree of freedom.' It seems absurd to speak of a conclusion reached by the people after two years' deliberation, after threshing the matter out before the legislature after threshing it out before the court and hy the court, and then after full debate for foor or six months, as 'the fitful impulse of a temporary majority.'

"If Mr. Taff's language correctly describes such action by the people, then he himself and all other presidents have been elected by the fitful impulse of a temporary majority,' then the con-Apparently, then, the decision of stitution of each state, and the constitution of each state, and the constitution of the nation, have been adopted and another fitful impulse of a temporary majority, which foundant this nation.

Fostiton is Clear.

"Mr. Taft's position is perfectly clear. It is that we have in this country a special class of persons where than the people, who are above the people, but who govern them and ought to govern them and who protect various classes of the people from the whole people. That is she old, old doctrine which has been acted upon sometimes openity, sometimes secretly, feed a draw the people who are above the people, but who govern them and ought to govern them and who protect various classes of the people from the whole people. That is she old, old doctrine which has been acted upon sometimes openity, sometimes secretly, feed the people who are above the people who are above the people who are above the people. The is the old offer the mentical has been acted upon sometimes openity, sometimes secretly, feed the sand can only be to make the courts the shield of privilege against the rights of the people of the courties that crooked clauses creep into laws that are tooked clauses creep into laws that the total courties that crooked clauses creep into laws that are tooked clauses creep into laws that are tooked clauses creep into laws that the popular to the courts is done the desired to the courts is done the following a total apportionment of $3.5. The county men of wealth and power control legis-lation. The men of wealth who praise this doctrine, this theory, would do well to remember that to its adoption by the courts is due the distrust so well to remember that to its adoption by the courts is due the distrust so many of our wage workers now feel for the courts. I deny that that theory has worked so well that we sliculd continue it. I most earnestly urge that the evils and abuses it has produced cry sloud for remedy; and the only remedy is in fact to restore the power to govern directly to the people, and to make the public servant directly responsible to the whole people—and to no part of them, to no "class" of them.

"Mr. Taft is very much afraid of the tyranny of majorities, For 25 years here in New York state, in our efforts to get souffered from the tyranny of a small minority.

strive for social and industrial justice, achieved through the genuine role of the people. This is our end, our purpose. The methods for achieving the end are mercially expedients, to be firally accepted or rejected according as actual experience shows that they work well or lil. But in our hearts we must have this lofty purpose, and we must strive for it in all earnestness and sinterplate or our work will come to nothas a check on the special 'nterests.

Refers to Taft.

"Mr. Taft again and again, in quotations I have given and elsewhere through his speech, expresses his disbellef in the people when they vote at the polis. In one sentence he says that the proposition gives 'powerini effect to the monetary impulse of granter to the monetary impulse of granter to the monetary impulse of granter the way for the possible exercise of the grossest tyrany." Elsewhere he speaks of the 'feverish uncertainty' and 'unstable determination' of laws by 'tem-

Mrs. J. S. Quisenberry and Two Daughters Thrown From Buggy.

Las Cruces, N. M., March 11 .- Mrs. S. Quisenberry was painfully injured and her daughter, Annie, aged 16, was seriously injured, while another daughter. Florence, age 14, escaped without injury, when a horse driven by Mrs. Quisenberry became frightened, ran away and threw the occupants of the vehicle to the ground, Mrs. Quisenberry, although badly bruised and stunned, managed to get to a nearby telephone and summened a physician and a passing automobile picked up the injured girl and she was carried to her home, where it was found she had sustained a broken collar bone and probably had been internally injured. The wheels of the buggy had passed over her head, and she was still unconscious when her home was reached.

Mr. Quisenberry was phoned for at the ranch of Joe Taylor, on the north of town, where he was attending to some business matters. It is considered miraculous that Florence Quisenberry escaped without a scratch, while her sister's condition is critical, and the mother, though badly hurt, rabiled long enough to get help.
